As required by 40 C.F.R. Part 55, the Revolution Wind project will need to obtain an OCS Air Permit for those emissions sources that meet the definition of an OCS Source per 40 C.F.R. Part 55.3. Revolution Wind must submit an OCS air permit application within 18 months of receipt of the NOI. The proposed project consists of 100 wind turbine generators and two offshore substations capable of supplying between 704 and 880 MW of energy to the State of Rhode Island through an existing power purchase agreement.
